A Bespoke Style Transformation with London's Leading Stylist

■ For those seeking a fresh start in the New Year, this two-day experience with London style director Oriona Robb offers a considered, quietly luxurious reset. With two decades of experience advising royalty, CEOs and industry leaders, Robb specialises in aligning personal style with life's shifting chapters—helping clients look the way they want to feel.

The journey begins in the privacy of your residence or hotel where Robb conducts an in-depth consultation and wardrobe review, including colour and body analysis. The emphasis is on clarity: understanding what no longer feels right, refining what does and defining a direction that feels current, authentic and sustainable.

The following day, you move into the city for a curated shopping itinerary through London's finest boutiques, selecting pieces that feel considered, coherent and aligned with your new direction. The experience culminates at Fedro Gaudenzi's Cork Street atelier, opposite, where you collaborate with the master tailor on a bespoke suit or garment shaped around your proportions, lifestyle and aesthetic. For clients in the Principality, both Robb and Gaudenzi can arrange travelling fittings.

For those wishing to go further, an optional beauty experience at The Six in Mayfair includes a bespoke hair session with Brazilian master colourist Marcos Verissimo, a specialist in refining tone and structure for long-lasting ease. A facial, manicure, pedicure and lymphatic drainage massage can be added to your treatment list, turning the visit into a full body reset.

The experience is priced from €13,000, with the beauty element available at an additional cost.
